

COPAL COFFEE TABLE

The Copal Coffee Table draws inspiration from diverse ritual elements rooted in Mexico, specifically the “copaleras”, which are objects similar to censers or open cauldrons used for burning copal.

Enveloped in an aura of mysticism, the table appears to float in the air, defying gravity through its cantilever design. Crafted with precision, the table is made up of six half spheres—three large and three small—that are skillfully assembled to create a visually challenging piece.
